Loulé Property with Opportunity to Construct

A converted ruin has been modernised into two separate dwellings. A T1 apartment and T2, both offer excellent views across the hillside and along the coast. Both with a modern finish.

There is also the potential to construct a further V3 on the plot, with the potential to make this a "main house" with the current buildings used as annexes. Or the two properties could easily be reconfigured to a single-family home.

Presently there are avocado and mango trees throughout the lower part of the plot.

An interesting project with room for the imagination to run wild!
